

For Stanley.txt

Dear Stanley,

My mother is emailing you these documents, and audio files in regards to very important matters. I want you to have these documents for my safety since I had already appeared on a talk radio show on May 26 at around 1:30AM. I told them everything about the FBI committing dereliction of duty and what had happened. That they have permitted felony criminal behavior in all of their bids to stop me from proving my actual innocence.

I want these documents in other hands in case, for my personal safety. These documents are for you. God Bless! I pray to God during the course of the swamp draining. I pray that Trump succeeds in draining the corrupt FBI and Department of [In]Justice swamp.

My mother is sending you these documents from rbhill[redacted]@yahoo.com. I am redacting part of her email in my text typed document for my mom to paste in her email to you for her safety due to the tormail.org attacks.

God will prevail and Trump will prevail against the swamp.

Sincerely,
Brian D. Hill
