URGENT: Sentencing letter for Owen Shroyer, please acknowledge receipt

To npattis@pattisandsmith.com <npattis@pattisandsmith.com>

Norm Pattis,

This is Roberta Hill, the mother of Brian Hill. My son has typed up and has signed a sentencing letter for your client that my son feels is too close to the date of the sentencing hearing. My son has a good excuse for why he didn't mail this letter at an earlier time for Owen Shroyer's case. Brian had dealt with his grandad in the hospital and was more recently at a nursing home than an assisted living care facility. Brian had gotten through the emotions and had decided to write a sentencing letter for your client Jonathan Own Shroyer. It is attached.

Please acknowledge receipt. If you want, you can simply print out the sentencing letter and present it at his sentencing if you feel that it may help your client in any way. If it is too late, at least you can show Owen the support he is getting from people who do care about him and respect him for the good he has done.

Brian plans on mailing this letter by Express Mail by USPS to the Clerk of the Court on Saturday to make sure that it is received on Monday. That is unless you can at least acknowledge my son's sentencing letter for Shroyer. If you don't think mailing it Express Mail today on Saturday will matter, you can reply to this email letting my son know that it may be too late to mail it with the hearing soon approaching.

You do have CM/ECF access and you could also present the sentencing letter at the hearing if the court rules permit. Brian has a good excuse for why he is filing this close to the sentencing date.

My son has filed similar sentencing letters in both the Roger Stone case and the Stewart Rhodes case and both were accepted for filing by two federal judges in the Washington, DC court. So chances are my son's sentencing letter for Owen Shroyer may be accepted for filing or to be used for the sentencing hearing.

Brian hopes you will at least acknowledge receipt. I use a PACER account and so does Brian's grandparents. So if my son's sentencing letter does get accepted, then we can always check PACER. I am just asking to make sure that you have received it with at least plenty of time to review over the sentencing letter.

Hope you have a great day,
Roberta Hill
