ALERT!!!!!!!

This email address was hacked into, and the original email address holder had now seen this email and is hereby notifying you that any emails sent from this email address which is not from [REDACTED] is from the person who hacked or hijacked this email address. Please disregard any email messages from the person or persons who hacked or illegally hijacked this email address. Those emails were not sent by me but were sent by whoever hijacked this email address.

Please disregard any emails from us. I have taken back control of my account from cpanel and am restoring emails which were deleted by the hacker or hijacker who hijacked my account.

I am sorry for any inconvenience caused by the one who hijacked my email address here. Those emails are not by me. They were not supposed to be sent to you as I don't know you. This notification is to protect the reputation of my email by notifying you of what happened. Please just disregard the email or emails from this email address since my account is back in my hands and password has been changed. After I notify people, I will try to restrict emails being sent from this email address until further notice.

Thanks,
[REDACTED]

Hello [REDACTED]
I hope you're having a great day. I need to update my payroll information before the next pay date. Could you please provide guidance on the required details?
